

METAMORPHOSIS

THE BRAIDWOOD QUILT SHOP CHALLENGE

2017

The Concise Oxford Dictionary describes metamorphosis as “to change in form by magic or by natural development”. There are plenty of examples of morphing by magic in the fairy tales of old and new from Cinderella to Dr Who.

The transformation of a caterpillar to a beautiful butterfly, a tadpole to a frog or a tiny seed to an enormous tree is a wonderment of nature.

The fabric I have selected for the 2017 Challenge is named Bush Tucker After Rain by Marleen Doolan. The artist has painted her impression of the transformation of the seemingly barren desert to a rich and bountiful domain after the seasonal rains have fallen.

Your challenge is to transform this colourful fat quarter of cloth into a small quilt.

The guidelines are broad but there has to be some rules.

1. Make a small quilt that measures when finished 60cms x 60cms.
2. You may use any technique you please.
3. The challenge fabric must be used within the quilt, not just the borders.
4. You may add in as many fabrics as you please but no fabric is to exceed the amount of the challenge fabric used.
5. Attach a label on the back to identify the quilt (your name, address, name of quilt and date).
6. Attach a rod pocket to the back.
7. The finished quilt will be entered in the 2017 Quilt Event held in November.
8. The entered quilt must be the work of the exhibitor.
9. Please return the entry form by 29th October 2017.
10. Deliver or send the quilt to the Braidwood Quilt Shop by 12th November.
11. There is no entry fee but Braidwood Quilters Inc. will retain 10% commission if the quilt is sold.

The Braidwood Quilt Shop will award goods to the value of $200.00 to the first three winners.

Quilt Event Dates are 25th and 26th November 2017.
